

Volunteer at Greenbelt Festival with our... Supporter engagement team

Could you inspire others to support Christian Aid's vital work?

Do you enjoy speaking to people? Can you inspire festival goers to support our work and take our campaign actions?

As a volunteer with Christian Aid at Greenbelt festival you will be part of a team and make a practical contribution to Christian Aid's work. You'll be engaging with festival-goers and getting our message across – and in between shifts you'll also get some time to enjoy the festival!

Location:

Greenbelt Festival
2022- Kettering

Time commitment:

26 (morning) - 29
August 2022
(and online pre-training)

What will I do?

- Be part of the team communicating Christian Aid's work to festival goers, in our 'hub' and around the festival site
- Encourage festival goers to engage with our campaign actions and fundraising activities
- Be proactive in starting up conversations with festival goers
- Work one shift of around five hours each day (allocated on arrival), enjoying the festival the rest of the time!

What skills I do need?

- Friendly and reliable
- Confidence to speak about Christian Aid's campaigns and activities
- Flexibility, and a willingness to pitch in and help
- Ability to work in a team and support others
- Ability to stay cheerful, rain or shine, in a festival field
- Fundraising or campaigning experience and a good knowledge of Christian Aid are desirable, but full training will be provided

How will I be supported?

- Training for your role prior to, and at the start of the festival
- Support from your team leader
- Weekend pass to the Greenbelt festival and food vouchers for some meals
- Travel expenses to/from the festival (to a maximum of £50)
- All Covid-19 measures in place to ensure a safe experience
